WELCOME to the CIVIL AIR PATROL CADET CORPS

Your Cadet Program is organized around four main elements. Everything you do as a cadet will point back to one or more of these elements, in one way or another.

You'll learn to lead and conquer challenges as a team.

Leadership

CAP introduces cadets to Air Force perspectives on leadership through classroom instruction, mentoring, and hands-on learning. First, cadets learn to follow, but as they progress, they learn how to lead small teams, manage projects, think independently, and develop leadership skills they can use in adult life.

*Where's the best place to study aerospace?
The cockpit!*

Aerospace

CAP inspires in youth a love of aviation, space, and technology. Cadets study the fundamentals of aerospace science in the classroom and experience flight first-hand in CAP aircraft. Cyber topics important to the national defense represent a new frontier. Summer activities allow cadets to explore aerospace-related careers.

"Off we go into the wild blue yonder, climbing high, into the sun!"

Fitness

CAP encourages cadets to develop a lifelong habit of regular exercise. The Cadet Program promotes fitness through calisthenics, hiking, rappelling, obstacle courses, competitions, and other vigorous activities. A comprehensive fitness test based on age and gender challenges cadets.

*You won't just honor
America, you'll solidify your character.*

Character

CAP challenges cadets to live their Core Values. Through character forums, cadets discuss ethical issues relevant to teens. Chaplains often lead the discussions, but the forums are not religious meetings. CAP also encourages cadets to promote a drug free ethic in their schools and communities.

FIRST TASKS for NEW CADETS

1 Register in eServices eServices is CAP's online portal for training courses, membership records, help desk, squadron roster with contact information, and more.
 ► GoCivilAirPatrol.com > eServices Login

2 Complete the Cadet Welcome Course
 A 15-minute online module in Cadet Interactive, the Cadet Welcome Course, will help you get started. If you don't have web access, ask your squadron for an in-person briefing.

3 Get into uniform
 You need one uniform to get started. Eventually you'll want to have both the camouflage uniform (ABUs), and the service uniform, "blues."
 Upon completing Achievement 1, you'll qualify for the Curry Blues Voucher, which covers some costs of "blues."

Therefore, we suggest you obtain ABUs first, and then use the Curry Blues Voucher to obtain your "blues."

Uniform items are available from many sources. CAP's official partner is Vanguard. Shop at CivilAirPatrolStore.com, (800) 221-1264.

If you're near an Air Force base, you can buy uniform garments (but not cadet insignia) at the Exchange or thrift store.

Speak to your leaders about local options, too. Sometimes the squadron has a "supply closet," and military surplus stores could be another option.

4 Look around
 Browse this New Cadet Guide.

5 Read Learn to Lead, chapter 1
 Do you want to develop leadership skills? Then the cadet textbook, Learn to Lead, will help. Read chapter 1. Better yet, study it and browse the other chapters if you have time.

6 Complete Cadet Interactive, leadership module 1
 After reading Learn to Lead

chapter 1, go deeper and challenge your learning in Cadet Interactive. If you don't have web access, you can ask your squadron to give you an open-book test instead. Are you a high achiever? Go for Honor Credit by doing both the Cadet Interactive module and the open-book test.

7 Begin using your *Personal Cadet Tracker
 Record your accomplishments on your Personal Cadet Tracker. While you do that, set some goals for your first year as a cadet.

8 Plan to attend encampment
 Encampment is a full immersion into all the opportunities of cadet life. It'll be the high point of your first year! See page 9 for more information.

EXPECTATIONS for NEW CADETS

- * Stay with CAP for at least 1 year. Give the cadet experience a chance to impact your life.
- * Attend squadron meetings regularly. If you'll be absent, let your squadron know in advance.
- * Attend one "Saturday" event per month.
- * Participate in an orientation flight.
- * Attend encampment. See page 9.
- * Earn the Wright Brothers' Award.

WELCOME, AIRMAN!

The Air Force's mission is to "Fly, Fight, and Win." By working hard to become one of America's next aerospace leaders, you're contributing to that mission. You're a part of the Air Force team known as the Total Force.* The Air Force admires your seriousness of purpose. You're part of something larger than yourself, so stand tall and know that your service matters to America.

"Airman" is the general term used to describe everyone in the Total Force, including you. Airmen see the world from an aerial perspective. Her mind is in the clouds.

Technology is what enables humans to fly, so Airmen look upon technology with optimism. Airmen envision air, space, and cyberspace as places where Americans can do good for humanity. Just as aircraft fly faster than surface forces move, the Airman values speed in everything – we want to get to the future, and we want to get there faster than everyone. And just as aircraft can fly to any place on the planet, the Airman values flexibility. Airmen can adapt to changes easier while aloft than people stuck on the ground.

Because the Air Force looks upon CAP with pride, all CAP members, including new cadets like yourself, are allowed to claim the noble title, "Airman." Don't think of yourself merely as a young adult; you're a cadet and an Airman.

Yes, that's a bomb. CAP aircrews equipped their single-engine aircraft with bombs (below, in red) for Nazi submarine patrol over the open ocean, miles from the coast. The missions required real courage.

In 2014, the 113th Congress passed legislation awarding a Congressional Gold Medal to the CAP's World War II-era members "in recognition of their military service and exemplary record during World War II."

CAP HISTORY

Our founder, Gill Robb Wilson, an aviator-poet, imagined civilian pilots helping the military. In WWII, the idea became reality.

On 1 December 1941, just prior to the attack on Pearl Harbor, CAP was officially born. An Army major general, John F. Curry, commanded us.

Thousands of volunteers answered America's call to national service by performing critical wartime missions. CAP airmen logged more than 500,000 flying hours, spotted enemy subs, and saved hundreds of crash victims during the war. More than 150,000 volunteers – including women, young people, and senior citizens – helped America during WWII.

After the war, a thankful nation understood that CAP's volunteer services were still needed. CAP incorporated as a nonprofit organization and Congress established CAP as the auxiliary of the new U.S. Air Force in 1948.

Prop and Wings

The Prop and Wings is the symbol of the American Airman, dating back to the earliest days of U.S. military aviation. As a cadet, your flight cap bears the same insignia, so wear it with pride.

THE AIRMAN'S CREED

I am an American Airman.

I am a warrior.

I have answered my nation's call.

I am an American Airman.

My mission is to Fly, Fight, and Win.

I am faithful to a proud heritage,

a tradition of honor and a legacy of valor.

I am an American Airman,

guardian of freedom and justice,

my nation's sword and shield,

its sentry and avenger.

I defend my country with my life.

I am an American Airman:

wingman, leader, warrior.

I will never leave an airman behind.

I will never falter,

and I will not fail.

What does the Airman's Creed mean to you?

Obviously, the Creed was written with the warfighter in mind, but can you think of how cadets "fly, fight and win" in their own way?

* CAP members are regarded as a component of the Total Force only when they are performing an Air Force assigned mission such as search and rescue or cadet flight training. That's the fine print. But what's worth remembering is this: Your cadet service is so important to America that the Air Force regards you as a member of the Total Force team.

RANK-UP!

*Launch yourself toward success
Compete for the coolest opportunities*

In their oath, cadets pledge to “advance their education and training rapidly to be of service...” That means trying to rank up three times per year or more.

Promotions make you eligible for cool activities, scholarships, and leadership opportunities. The Mitchell Award is an important goal for any cadet aspiring to earn an Academy appointment, Cadet Wings scholarship, or a prestigious credential as a young leader.

Here’s a summary of the promotion process.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

A pilot's lifestyle needs to be airworthy. The human body is fragile, and when we fly we are working in an environment for which our bodies weren't designed. Therefore, physical fitness is a key aspect for aviation and spaceflight. CAP encourages cadets to develop a habit of exercising regularly for 30 minutes per day at least three times per week.

School Equivalent:
The CPFT is based on the Presidential Youth Fitness Program. Phys Ed teachers at school probably know how to administer the test and can help you.

THE CADET PHYSICAL FITNESS TEST

To advance as a cadet, you'll need to get into shape, or if you're already fit, we want you to beat your personal best. Squadrons will host fun fitness activities every month to help. About once a quarter you'll attempt a fitness test to see where you're at. As a new cadet, how well you perform initially doesn't matter - what counts is that you gradually improve. The basic rules for the five CPFT events are described below. See the Cadet Super Chart on pages 24-25 for the goals for your age and gender.

1-Mile Run

Run on a track if you can, or alternatively, on a flat road course that has little to no traffic. Run against traffic so you can see the cars coming. If running at night, wear a reflective vest. Follow the run/walk method below if you're new to running.

The Pacer

Jog 20 meters and touch the line with your foot by the time the beep sounds. Then, at the next beep, run back to the other end. The beeps will get faster, requiring you to increase your pace. Continue in this manner until you fail to reach the line before the beep for the second time.

Sit-and-Reach

Take off your shoes, sit on the ground with your legs fully extended and the soles of your feet against a stair or curb. Your left knee is bent with the sole of your foot flat on the floor. Then with palms face down, reach as far as you can without bouncing. Switch sides and repeat.

Push-Ups

Start in the "up" position, arms fully extended, then go down, keeping your back and knees straight, until your elbows are at 90°, then up again, doing exactly one push-up every 3 seconds.

Curl-Ups (Crunches)

Get a strip of paper 4 1/2" wide and 30" long. Lie on a mat with legs straight, and then raise knees until feet are flat, arms straight by your sides. Place strip under legs so that fingertips are just resting on the nearest edge. Curl up, sliding fingers across the strip to far side, then curl back down until head touches the mat and repeat, doing exactly one curl-up every 3 seconds.

Get Going! Here's how to get started on your own, or better yet, with your wingman:

- To warm-up, take each exercise slow and easy at first. For the run, walk briskly for a few minutes and then start your jog, using the run/walk method below. For the strength events, spend a few minutes moving your body in "dynamic stretches" with arm circles, leg swings, and hip circles. For the sit-and-reach, practice the reach a few times nice and easy before trying for real.
- Do curl-ups at a steady cadence for 1 minute (beginners) or 2 minutes (fit cadets).
- Do 5, 10, or 20 good push-ups in one session. Start slow at first, but over a couple weeks, try to get where you can do 5 or 10 more than you were able to do at first.

Note: The CPFT standards differ slightly for cadets who have medical issues. For more information, talk with your local leaders.

If you're really struggling, repeat that week's plan before advancing.

Run / Walk Training

The run/walk is a smart way to get into shape. Even marathon runners train this way, so there's nothing wimpy about it. It just works.

Start at whichever level and session feels comfortable. Jog at a pace that allows you to talk without getting winded. Your goal is to run for a certain amount of time until the walk break, and then to repeat that run/walk for a total of 25 to 35 minutes. Don't worry about distance or speed. At the end of your run, walk for a few minutes to cool down.

| Week | Monday      | Wednesday   | Friday      | Saturday     |
|------|-------------|-------------|-------------|--------------|
| 1    | 15 min walk | 20 min walk | 20 min walk | 30 min walk  |
| 2    | 2/2 x6      | 2/2 x7      | 2/2 x7      | 2/2 x7       |
| 3    | 2/2 x6      | 3/2 x6      | 3/2 x6      | 3/2 x7 *Mile |
| 4    | 3/2 x5      | 4/2 x5      | 4/2 x5      | 4/2 x6       |
| 5    | 4/2 x5      | 4/1 x5      | 4/1 x5      | 4/1 x6 Mile  |
| 6    | 4/1 x5      | 5/1 x5      | 5/1 x5      | 5/1 x6       |
| 7    | 5/1 x5      | 6/1 x5      | 6/1 x5      | 6/1 x6 Mile  |
| 8    | 6/1 x4      | 7/1 x4      | 7/1 x4      | 7/1 x5       |
| 9    | 7/1 x4      | 8/1 x3      | 8/1 x3      | 8/1 x4 Mile  |
| 10   | 8/1 x3      | 9/1 x3      | 9/1 x3      | 10/1 x3      |

What does 2/2 x 6 mean?

Run 2 minutes, walk 2 minutes, repeat 6 times.

*Mile: Run/walk on a track to see how long it takes to complete the first mile, and check how you're doing working toward your CPFT mile run goal.

CORE VALUES The Price of Admission to the Total Force

WHAT ARE the "CORE VALUES"?

The Core Values are moral signposts. They're four enduring values guiding you in life's journeys. Brief and memorable, they're an everyday personal code of honor. Get in the habit of thinking about them before you act. CAP's Core Values (below) are modeled upon the Air Force's (photo, right).

How leaders act counts more than what they think or say. You don't have to guess what a leader values, just watch and their personal code of honor shines through. Inscribe the Core Values onto your heart. Your character is your destiny.

INTEGRITY FIRST

Integrity is the willingness to do what is right, even when no one is looking. Integrity is wholeness. You're a whole person, not a split person, so how you act in uniform should match how you act out of uniform. A person of integrity is honest and morally courageous. They can be counted on to fulfill their responsibilities, even in difficult circumstances. They don't blame others for their mistakes, and they don't cheat or steal.

"All I want is an education. I am afraid of no one."

Malala Yousafzai was just a girl when she began fearlessly speaking up for girls' rights in Pakistan. How she acted online as a writer matched exactly with how she acted in real life. That's wholeness. That's INTEGRITY.

Everything about this teen infuriated the Taliban, so they shot her. She recovered and continued speaking up for girls and women.

For her integrity, she was awarded the Nobel Prize for Peace at 17, the youngest recipient ever.

VOLUNTEER SERVICE

This Core Value teaches us that the needs of the team and of the people we help take priority over our individual desires. To put it more simply, Volunteer Service is about "selflessness." It's the difference between "giving" and "taking." This Core Value is extra important because CAP is entrusted with performing life-saving missions. Volunteer Service is also evident when experienced cadets mentor and train new cadets.

SERVICE can be simple. When a cadet shares her enthusiasm for flying with a child, that's service. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said, "Everybody can be great because everybody can serve. That's the new definition of greatness."

EXCELLENCE IN ALL WE DO

Being a cadet means you value Excellence. No matter what challenge you face, you give your best effort. If you value Excellence, you demonstrate teamwork and know that teams accomplish more than individuals do. Moreover, to display this Core Value, you must make a commitment to continuous self-improvement - you must study, train, and work to better yourself and fulfill your potential in every aspect of your life.

Unsure what EXCELLENCE means? Watch the Air Force Thunderbirds. The pilots, technicians and other professionals on the team approach every challenge in their life - big or small - with a fierce determination to do their very best.

But do the Core Values really matter?

Someone scrawled a hideously vile word onto the Air Force Academy's campus. Big deal?

The superintendent gathered everyone together and made the Air Force's view about racism crystal clear. "If you can't treat someone with dignity and respect," declared Lt Gen Jay Silveria, "then get out."

Truly, making a commitment to the Core Values is the price of admission at the Air Force Academy.

RESPECT

This Core Value challenges cadets to defend human dignity. Someone who is respectful treats others as they would like to be treated. They're polite and kind. They assume their friends and even strangers act in good faith, so they give them the benefit of the doubt. Likewise, a respectful person understands that each individual is unique and accepts them for who they are. Cadets can model Respect in their daily life to bring people together.

"We should all love one another and bring hope to other people."

Everyone deserves RESPECT because everyone has dignity. Tank Schottle is a Special Olympics athlete who not only competes in seven sports, he uses his huge social media following to spread messages of respect and hope.

YOUR TOOL FOR HELP

The CHAIN of COMMAND

A single individual cannot run CAP. It takes a team of leaders called the "chain of command."

The "chain" is how authority is organized, a way in which leaders share the burden of running the squadron, or a company, or any organization.

The chain links the most junior person – you, the new cadet – with the highest ranking leader in the organization. Complete the chart below to identify your squadron's chain. You're expected to know your chain from memory.

When you have a question or concern, use the chain to get help. Try to resolve issues at the lowest level. You can look-up a person's contact information in eServices.

SIGN-UP for ENCAMPMENT

Challenge yourself

Develop leadership skills

Prove your self-discipline

It's a full immersion into all aspects of cadet life, a potentially life-changing experience.

Encampment challenges you. It pushes you so you'll grow. Are you disciplined? Can you work as a team? Can you lead?

These are some of the questions the cadre will help you answer for yourself during awesome, hands-on activities and tours available only to cadets.

Key Facts

Format. Encampment is an overnight activity, usually one-week in duration and held on a military installation in your area. Sometimes, encampment is held over multiple weekends.

Benefits. Graduating from encampment is a pre-requisite for the Mitchell Award and special activities like flight academies (NCSAs, p. 23).

Activities. The activities vary by location. Some examples are depicted on this page.

See aircraft up-close

Train as a team

Tuition. The cost averages about $200, but varies by location.

Next Step. Ask your local leaders for information about the next encampment.

Financial Help is available via the Cadet Encampment Assistance Program (CEAP, say "seep"). GoCivilAirPatrol.com/Encampment

WINGMEN SPEAK UP

How can you help keep yourself and fellow cadets safe for awesome challenges?

The Air Force teaches that a wingman will always safeguard his or her lead. Your wingman sees the world from a different vantage point. That's valuable because together you see more – more dangers and more opportunities. With a wingman you can win more battles than someone flying alone.

Being a good wingman means taking care of fellow cadets. Think about their health in every dimension: their physical, mental, and social well-being. Cadets, check your wingman's "Six."

WARNING SIGNS of ABUSE

- ✘ Giving a lot of special attention to certain cadets
- ✘ Asking to see a cadet outside of CAP activities
- ✘ Being sneaky or asking a cadet to keep secrets
- ✘ Trying to be alone with a cadet for no good reason
- ✘ Talking about stuff that is way too personal and creepy
- ✘ Sending a lot of private texts or messages to a cadet
- ✘ Pressuring a cadet to lie to someone
- ✘ Making a cadet disobey rules and regulations

HOW to SOUND THE ALARM on ABUSE

If you're worried that a fellow cadet is being harmed or is at risk of self-harm or harming another, you have to act. Don't worry about following the chain of command, just go see an adult you trust and tell of your concerns. No one can "order" you to keep quiet. No one can try to get back at you for being a good wingman. If you bring serious problems to senior members, they will keep that information as private as they can, telling only those adults who need to know.

Sounding off with your concerns is not a childish response. Doing so may feel uncomfortable, so it takes guts. A four-star general put it this way. "We value courage in this business." Speak up.

The CADET WINGMAN CONCEPT

Three areas wingmen need to watch

PHYSICAL WELL-BEING

- Preventing bodily injury
- Eating well & drinking water
- Getting plenty of sleep
- Using safety equipment
- Knowing your wingman's location

MENTAL WELL-BEING

- Staying optimistic about the future
- Feeling good about themselves
- Bouncing back after a disappointment
- Keeping their mind in the game
- Coping with homesickness

SOCIAL WELL-BEING

- Making friends
- Being included in the group
- Giving & accepting compliments
- Not picking on others
- Not being picked on

"KNOCK IT OFF"

If you see something that does not look safe to you, speak up! Any cadet may sound the Air Force command, "KNOCK IT OFF" if he or she thinks someone might get hurt.

When you hear "Knock it off" immediately stop what you are doing and await further instructions.

Safety is serious business. No one wants to get hurt, and if someone is injured, the team might not complete its mission. Pay attention to what your wingman is doing. You have a special duty to keep your wingman safe.

MILITARY CUSTOMS & COURTESIES

RESPECT ON DISPLAY

The Salute. Coming to attention when an officer enters a room. Shaking hands when meeting someone. These are all examples of customs and courtesies. They are small, but important expressions of politeness and respect. Customs and courtesies are found throughout society at large, but Air Force-style customs and courtesies are especially important in CAP because they re-enforce the Core Values and bring us closer to our parent service.

Respect on Display. When we render military-style customs and courtesies, the Core Value of Respect is on display. Air Force traditions like the salute, and everyday American customs – even friendly greetings like, “Good afternoon, sir” – symbolize our commitment to a sense of teamwork that is built on a foundation of mutual respect.

Human Dignity. All persons have dignity simply by their humanity. That dignity makes everyone worthy of respect, no matter their age, gender, race, religion, or any other factor.

A Two-Way Street. Because everyone should be respectful, respect is a two-way street. Even a 4-star general would treat cadets as he or she would like to be treated. Rank is not the right to be rude or mean. Likewise, when a junior renders military courtesies to a senior, it is a sign of respect for the officer’s position. Military customs and courtesies are never marks of inferiority because they do not aim to humiliate. Actually, they make CAP service special.

EISENHOWER on RESPECT

President. General of the Army. Before that, Cadet.

Dwight Eisenhower was a high-ranking cadet at West Point when a low-ranking plebe came running and accidentally collided with him.

Ike yelled sarcastically, “Cadet, what is your previous condition of servitude? You look like a barber!”

Reply: “I was a barber, sir.”

Now Ike felt deeply ashamed. Later, he told his roommate, “I’m never going to [haze] another plebe as long as I live. I made a man ashamed of the work he did to earn a living.”

Decades later, President Eisenhower still regretted how he treated that cadet. But since that time, he adopted a new rule: Respect everyone, all the time. Everyone.

COMING TO ATTENTION

Key Principle

It is customary for all members to come to attention when the commander enters the room.

Finer Points

- If an officer who is higher ranking than anyone present enters the room, the first person to notice commands, “Room, ATTENTION.” If only senior members or officers are present, the first to notice the commander instead announces, “Ladies and gentlemen, the commander.”
- In a classroom, conference setting, or work environment, these customs are usually relaxed.

THE PLACE OF HONOR

Key Principle

The junior walks on the senior’s left.

Finer Points

- The right is the place of honor. This stems from antiquity when warriors carried swords, usually on their right side. Being positioned on the right of the juniors, the senior would be able to draw a sword and defend the formation.
- During uniform inspections, the senior walks on the left. This positions the senior closest to the troops, with the best vantage point for conducting the inspection.

THE SALUTE

Key Principle

When outdoors and in uniform, cadets salute military officers, CAP officers, and cadet officers higher in rank than themselves.

Finer Points

- Salutes are normally exchanged only outdoors. Indoors, salute officers only when formally reporting (ie: when called forward to receive an award).
- The junior person initiates the salute a fair distance from the senior person such that the senior has time to return the salute.
- Offer a greeting such as, "Good morning, ma'am," when exchanging salutes.
- When in formation, do not salute unless commanded to present arms. The commander salutes for the unit if an officer approaches.
- When in uniform, salute officers upon recognition, regardless of what the officer is wearing. For example, uniformed cadets salute their squadron commander even if that commander is in civilian attire. In such instances, the commander typically would verbally acknowledge the salute, but not return it.

When in doubt, salute. Anyone may render a salute at any time if they believe one is warranted.

HONORS TO THE COLORS

Key Principle

The table below outlines basic rules for honoring the colors when the National Anthem or To the Colors plays.

|          | MILITARY-STYLE UNIFORM                        | CIVILIAN ATTIRE   |
|----------|---|---|
| INDOORS  | Face the flag or music and stand at attention | Face the flag or music, stand at attention, place right hand over heart |
| OUTDOORS | Face the flag or music and salute             | Face the flag or music, stand at attention, place right hand over heart |

Finer Points

- If the colors march by, stand at attention and salute, when wearing a military-style uniform. If wearing civilian attire, stand at attention and place your right hand over your heart.
- It is not customary to salute stationary flagstaves, except when the National Anthem or To the Colors plays.

REPORTING TO AN OFFICER

Key Principle

When directed to formally report to an officer, follow these steps:

|   |   |   |
|---|---|---|
| 1  "Enter."(knock knock) | 2  2 paces  | 3  "Ma'am,Cadet Curryreporting asordered." |
| In an office setting, knock on the commander's door and wait for permission to enter.  | Walk toward the commander and halt 2 paces in front of him or her.   | Salute and report, "Sir / Ma'am, (Grade) (Name) reporting as ordered."   |
| 4                                    | 5  "At ease, cadet. Iwant to talk withyou about..." | 6  "Thank you, youare dismissed."                    |
| Wait for the officer to return the salute.   | Remain at attention, unless put at ease.   | When the meeting is over, the officer will say, "Dismissed."   |
| 7                                  | 8    | 9    |
| Come to attention (if not already) and take one step backward.   | Salute and wait for the officer to return the salute.  | Perform an about face and exit the area.   |

THE PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

Key Principle

When in civilian attire, stand at attention and salute by placing your right hand over your heart while reciting the pledge.

When in a military-style uniform, stand at attention and remain silent.

Finer Points

- If outdoors in civilian attire, remove your hat when reciting the pledge.
- The pledge is not normally recited when CAP members are in formation. Reciting the pledge when in military-style uniform, let alone when assembled in a formation, is somewhat redundant – the uniform and all the other trappings of national service are themselves symbols of a special devotion to America.

MANNERS OF ADDRESS

Key Principle

Address superior officers as "Sir" or "Ma'am."

Finer Points

- Cadets address fellow cadet airmen and NCOs by grade and last name.
- Cadets address cadet officers and senior member officers by grade or as "Sir" or "Ma'am."
- Senior members may address cadets by grade or simply by the noble title, "Cadet."
- Air Force and CAP senior member non-commissioned officers and airmen are addressed by grade and last name, except chief master sergeants are addressed as "Chief."
- Chaplains are commonly referred to by title and last name (ie: Chaplain Reutemann).

YOUR UNIFORM is a visual representation of your commitment to the Core Values. Because uniforms are unique — only CAP cadets wear the CAP cadet uniform — they are a source of pride. Wearing the uniform is part of your leadership training. The uniform helps you develop self-discipline, personal responsibility, and self-respect. Whenever you wear the uniform, you represent not just yourself but also all of CAP and the U.S. Air Force, so wear the uniform with pride.

Flight cap device is centered on left side, 1 1/2" from edge. Male and female flight caps are slightly different in style but prescribe the same rule for placing the device.

Chevrons rest 1-inch from the collar edge, parallel to that edge and centered. Chevrons are worn on both collars and in the same manner on ABUs and Blues alike. Until you earn your first stripe, you won't wear anything on your collar.

Blue nametag (females) is centered on right breast, even with or up to 1 1/2 inches higher or lower than the first exposed button, parallel to the ground.

Belt & buckle tip of buckle extends to wearer's left (males) or right (females). No belt fabric should show. The edge of the shirt's button placket, the edge of the buckle, and edge of the trouser fly must align. This alignment is called the "gig line."

Blue nametag (males) rests on but not over the right breast pocket, centered.

Wear the silver tipped belt and buckle with Blues and the tan rigger belt with ABUs.

Ribbons (females) rest centered on left breast, parallel to ground. The bottom of the set of ribbons is even with the bottom of the nametag. Wear of ribbons is optional on the light blue shirt.

Blues pants front of pant leg should rest on front of shoe, with a slight break in crease and 1/8" longer on back

Ribbons (males) rest centered on, but not over, the left breast pocket. Wear of ribbons is optional on the light blue shirt.

Blues skirt (females) skirt length will be no longer than bottom of kneecap or shorter than top of kneecap.

BASIC GROOMING STANDARDS

Males. Except in field conditions, cadets are expected to have a clean appearance free of dirt and grime. Anti-perspirant / deodorant will be used and toothpaste and mouthwash as well. Hair must appear tapered and be trimmed to not touch the ears, collar, or eyebrows. Bangs cannot be visible when wearing headgear. Extreme or fad styles are prohibited. In general, the face must be clean shaven. Sideburns must be neatly trimmed and end before the bottom of the ear. A neatly trimmed mustache may also be worn. Earrings are prohibited. Necklaces cannot be visible.

Females. Except in field conditions, cadets are expected to have a clean appearance free of dirt and grime. Anti-perspirant / deodorant will be used and toothpaste and mouthwash as well. Hair must be neatly arranged to present a conservative, feminine appearance, and may touch but not fall below the bottom edge of the collar. Only inconspicuous pins and combs may be worn in the hair. Extreme and fad styles are prohibited. Cosmetics are permitted if conservative and in good taste. Hair must not fall below the front band of the ABU/BDU cap, but may be visible in front of the flight cap. One small spherical earring per ear is permitted. Necklaces cannot be visible.

Note: These few pages on the wear of the uniform cover only the most common matters. For full details, see CAPM 39-1 at GoCivilAirPatrol.com > Members > Publications

Airman Battle Uniform (ABUs)

Chevrons rest 1-inch from the collar edge, parallel to that edge and centered. Chevrons are worn on both collars and in the same manner on ABUs and Blues alike. Until you earn your first stripe, you won't wear anything on your collar.

Cloth nametape rests on but not over the right breast pocket of the ABUs. Do not cut the excess fabric but fold it under to prevent fraying.

Cloth CAP tape rests on but not over the left breast pocket of the ABUs. Do not cut the excess fabric but fold it under to prevent fraying.

ABU Sleeves when rolled up must touch or come within 1" of forearm, when bent at 90° angle.

ABU pants must be bloused over combat boots

TEN TIPS for LOOKING SHARP

1. Keep your insignia in a special place at home.
2. Prepare your uniform the night before you wear it.
3. Trim loose strings from buttons, pockets, and belt loops.
4. Use spray starch when ironing.
5. Obtain "enforcers" or put cardboard behind your ribbons.
6. Check your appearance in a full-length mirror.
7. Keep a small cloth with you to dust your shoes and brass.
8. Check your gig-line upon exiting a car or restroom.
9. Avoid leaning against anything while in uniform.
10. Ask your wingman to double-check your uniform, and return the favor.

PRO TIPS What cadets say makes them successful

SOCIAL MEDIA & YOU

As a cadet, you represent CAP in everything you do. In or out of uniform, your actions reflect upon the Cadet Corps and the Air Force. Therefore, when you use social media, please:

Be respectful. Don't bully anyone. Don't call people names or use profanity. Continue to address adults as sir or ma'am.

Pause before you post. Once something goes onto the web, it's there forever. If you're angry or frustrated, it's tempting to "get even." Online fights and flame wars reflect badly on you.

Before you post something, pause and think.

Police your own. Help make the web a positive space. If you see cadets behaving badly on the web, send a private message reminding them of our Core Values. If someone talks about self-harm or harming others, tell an adult. Be a leader.

Friend & follow. Join the CAP Facebook to stay informed.

Everyone's doing it? Wrong.

Seven out of ten teens do not drink or use drugs.*

As a cadet, you can lead. Volunteer for the Red Ribbon Leadership Academy to take the drug-free message into your community.

Lead by example. Don't drink, smoke, or use drugs.

SQ3R

STUDY SKILLS to HELP YOU RANK-UP

1 SURVEY

Look through the assignment. Get a sense for what you'll be reading. Notice each boldface heading and subheading. Organize your mind before you begin to read and build a structure for the many thoughts and details to come.

2 QUESTION

When your mind is actively searching for answers to questions, that's when you'll really learn. As you read, turn every title heading into a question. For example, if faced with a heading "Definition of Leadership," turn that into "What is the definition of leadership?"

3 READ

Read one section at a time to find answers to the "question" you created. Highlight key passages. Put the author's words into your own by writing notes in the margins. Reading is an intellectual activity; if you're just passing your eyes over the page, you're doing it wrong.

4 RECITE

After each section, stop and recall your questions and see if you can answer them from memory. If not, review the text again, as often as necessary. Don't move to the next section until you can recite the answers from the previous section.

5 REVIEW

Once you've finished the entire chapter using the preceding steps, go back over the questions you created for each heading. Get your notepad and outline what you've read. The day before the test, review those notes.

PERSONAL PRODUCTIVITY: How to "GET THINGS DONE"

"Young people are constantly plugged in and moving fast to make their mark on the world." — CNN

No matter what your goals are, it's a challenge to get things done, to keep up with all the "stuff" in your life.

"Stuff" is anything that shouts for your attention:

- ◆ homework assignments
- ◆ big projects at school
- ◆ chores at home
- ◆ events with friends
- ◆ family events
- ◆ cadet promotion tasks
- ◆ cadet activities
- ◆ summer job schedule

You're Surrounded. One tricky aspect to "stuff" is that it comes at you from many directions. Your teacher orally announces homework. Your mom leaves a note on the fridge asking you to mow the lawn on Saturday. CAP leaders send you emails. Phone calls. Text messages. Ugh!

Get a System. To keep all this "stuff" straight, you need a system. You need to handle all the "stuff" in the same manner everyday. The good news is that having a system brings order to chaos, reduces stress, and help you achieve.

"Getting Things Done" The diagram below shows how the GTD system works. As "stuff" comes at you each day, begin to gather it into one place. Then, at a regular time each day, go through that "bucket of stuff," one item at a time. Look at each email or piece of paper or text message and ask, "What is this?" Follow the diagram below to decide how to handle that "stuff." If you can take care of the thing in less than 2 minutes, do so right away. If you can't, set it aside to do at on a specific day and time later. Set an alarm to remind you. Then put it out of your mind.

Key principles of "Getting Things Done"

1. Get everything that has your attention out of your head and capture it in a trusted place.
2. Decide what very next specific thing you need to do to finish that project. Set an alarm with your computer.
3. Define and keep track of all the big projects and big commitments you have. Decide what's a small task and what's a big, multi-step project.
4. Consistently update and review your master list of commitments. This will free your mind because you'll learn to trust your system of "getting things done."

The military's stunning fighter pilot shortage: One in four billets is empty

Stephen Losey April 11, 2018

The military's fighter pilot shortfall is reaching alarming proportions.

The Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps are each short about a 25 percent of the fighter pilots they need in crucial areas, according to a Government Accountability Office report.

Over the last two years, the Air Force has particularly sounded alarm bells over its pilot shortfalls. The service has stood up a team led by a one-star general to find ways to stem the bleeding of its pilot ranks. Efforts include dramatically increasing retention bonuses, cutting out paperwork and other non-flying duties that keep pilots out of the cockpit, and taking many other steps intended to keep pilots in the service.

Last November, Air Force Secretary Heather Wilson said the service was short 2,000 of all its pilots, or about 10 percent, and sounded a dire prediction of what it would lead to. "With 2,000 pilots short, it'll break the force," Wilson said.

BUSINESS INSIDER

Airlines are 'desperate' for new pilots

Rachel Premack Sept. 5, 2018

Vesselin Slaveykov, a JetBlue Airways pilot, finished pilot school just seven years ago. But he says the opportunities available to even newer pilots today are way beyond what he experienced at the beginning of his career.

Some regional airlines, where most pilots get their start, are trying to lure new folks to the career with $50,000 sign-on bonuses and tuition reimbursement for mandatory pilot training, which can take years and costs about $75,000.

That's an about-face from only a few years ago for those small carriers. GoJet Airlines, which flies to cities like Durango, Colorado, and Traverse City, Michigan, had a first-year pay of $20,504 in 2014. Now, new pilots with GoJet earn $61,512, including benefits and a sign-on bonus.

It's thanks to a critical shortage of pilots that has come to a peak this year. The shortage has been caused by a recent increase in the flying hours required for commercial pilots, the aging pilot workforce, fewer new pilots coming out of the military, and a general decline of interest in the career.

Texas Cadet is First Graduate of Cadet Wings Program

CAP.NEWS Jan. 24, 2019

Cadet Emma Herrington today became the first CAP cadet to earn her private pilot's certificate through the new Cadet Wings program funded by the U.S. Air Force.

"I had no idea my first flight with CAP would lead to many more. O-flights are the most important part of a cadet's journey through CAP, and most importantly, they are free."

Admission into Cadet Wings is ultra-competitive and based on merit. Herrington explains, "It gives aviation-crazy cadets who have drive and discipline the chance to get their license. It's the answer for those who cannot afford flight training but are desperate to fly."

"The best thing about Cadet Wings is that you're trained to fly CAP aircraft and all expenses are covered. Without the help of Cadet Wings, I would have been unable to afford my flight training," she said.

"Cadet Wings is the answer for those who cannot afford flight training but are desperate to fly."

AWESOME SUMMER &

SPECIAL ACTIVITIES

National Cadet Special Activities are one of the highlights of cadet life. These summer activities focus on career exploration, leadership skills, search and rescue training, STEM careers, and flying. Many immerse you in an Air Force career, while some camps focus on civilian opportunities.

To attend an NCSA cadets must achieve a certain age and rank, which varies, have completed an Encampment, and go through a selection process. Activities are announced in December for the following summer. GoCivilAirPatrol.com > Cadets > Activities.

CYBER PATRIOT

Hackers are attacking our democracy. Ransomware is a new form of piracy robbing the economy. All around the world, computer networks are under siege. Who will defend civilization?

CyberPatriot challenges cadets to find and fix cybersecurity vulnerabilities in virtual operating systems. It's fun and can point you toward a great career.

Teams are scored on how secure they make their system. Top teams advance through online competition, and the best teams advance to the in-person National Finals Competition.

Thinking about the military, college, or flight training?

THE ACADEMY

Attending the U.S. Air Force Academy is a dream for many CAP cadets. The Academy offers a top-ranked education and a world of opportunity. If USAFA is your dream, start preparing now. Earn your Mitchell Award and apply for CAP's special path to the Academy through the USAFA Preparatory School.

This could be you.

R.O.T.C.

Air Force ROTC is a college program that prepares you to become an Air Force Officer while earning a college degree. Earn your Mitchell Award to receive extra consideration for an AFROTC scholarship.

ENLISTMENT

The Air Force is proud of CAP cadets. If you earn your Mitchell Award and enlist in the Air Force, you'll be eligible to start out as an Airman First Class (E-3).

COLLEGE & FLIGHT TRAINING

Even if you're not interested in the military, CAP can help you prepare for your future through college and flight training scholarships. Earn your Mitchell Award to be competitive.

EMERGENCY SERVICES Help People in Need

Cadets contribute to CAP search and rescue and humanitarian missions as qualified radio operators, ground team members, flight line marshals, and mission staff assistants. Cadets have been credited with locating downed aircraft, finding missing persons, helping in the wake of natural disasters, and saving lives. "ES" is serious business. If you're joining CAP at, say, age 16 or older, the ES mission might be for you. Opportunities vary by location, so talk with your squadron.

CAPP 60-20, New Cadet Guide September 2021

Supersedes: New Cadet Guide, October 2019
Previous editions should not be used

Welcome to the Civil Air Patrol Cadet Program. This booklet is the new cadet's #1 source for introductory information about cadet life. For web-based help, please see GoCivilAirPatrol.com/newcadet

THE CADET OATH

I pledge that I will serve faithfully in the Civil Air Patrol Cadet Program and that I will attend meetings regularly participate actively in unit activities obey my officers
wear my uniform properly and advance my education and training rapidly to prepare myself to be of service to my community, state, and nation.

SUGGESTIONS FOR LOCAL LEADERS

The New Cadet Guide is a training text for newcomers participating in Cadet Great Start and a reference aid to support a cadet throughout his or her first year.

The suggested best practice is for squadrons to keep a supply of Guides on hand by printing them locally or purchasing them from Vanguard.

When prospective cadets attend their second CAP meeting, thereby showing a sincere interest in becoming a cadet, the squadron should provide each newcomer with this Guide. Use it as a textbook, training aid, and take-home resource until the cadet's New Cadet Kit arrives in the mail.

At that time, squadrons may want to recoup that fresh copy of the Guide to replenish their supply for the next Cadet Great Start cohort.
